FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Canongate Books published a series on the Bible in the 1990s. The various books were introduced not by scholars but artists and writers. One of the most striking was the Australian punk rocker/concept artist Nick Cave. Mr. Cave, as an artist and Christian, is out there. His take on Mark's Gospel, the text this liturgical year, is a personal favorite. Here's a taste:

Mark took from the mouths of teachers and prophets the jumble of events that comprised Christ's life and fixed these events into some kind of biographical form. He did this with such breathless insistence, such compulsive narrative intensity, that one is reminded of a child recounting some amazing tale, piling fact upon fact, as if the whole world depended upon it - which, of course, to Mark it did. 'Straightway' and 'immediately' link one event to another, everyone 'runs', 'shouts', is 'amazed', inflaming Christ's mission with a dazzling urgency. Mark's Gospel is a clatter of bones, so raw, nery and lean on information that the narrative aches with the melancholy of absence. Scenes of deep tragedy are treated with such a matter of factness and raw economy they become almost palpable in their unprotected sorrowfulness.

The Christ that emerges from Mark, tramping through the haphazard events of His life, had a ringing intensity about him that I could not resist. Christ spoke to me through His isolation, through the burden of His death, through His rage at the mundane, through His sorrow. Christ, it seemed to me was the victim of humanity's lack of imagination, was hammered to the cross with the nails of creative vapid-ity.

A reminder artists are often more insightful than scholars or preachers.

though all the mountains fall.
3. Though all the waters may rage, the seas press all around,
my God will be my strength.
4. The rivers resound with great love, the city sings for joy, with God we will stand firm.

"Be still and know God's peace."

Brown Sisters Foundation Challenge Grant Achieved!

The Brown Sisters
FOUNDATION

Thanks to the support of parishioners and friends of College Church, we successfully achieved our goal of $20,000 in donations from new donors outside of the parish in 2017. Here are just a few highlights from our program last year:

- Served 3,441 low income guests
- 42% of guests reported that they had been to prison or jail
- 46% of guests reported that they were experiencing homelessness
- Provided 2,341 Missouri State IDs
- Provided 2,730 birth certificates from any state, of which 970 were for children under 16

None of this would be possible without your ongoing support. Thank you!

Parish Lenten Book - Signs: Seven Words of Hope, by Jean Vanier

Jean Vanier founded the first L'Arche community over fifty years ago. These are now part of a worldwide network of small group homes where people with learning disabilities share their life with others who help each other live in freedom and dignity. A number of our parishioners are actively involved in three L'Arche homes in the St. Louis area.

Out of the wisdom Vanier brings from his experience at L'Arche, he suggests seven paths of hope for both our own personal transformation, and a transformation of our often ailing Church: a path from humiliation to humility; from conformity to conscience; from exclusion to encounter; from power to authority; from isolation to community; from strength to vulnerability; from secret to mystery. With seven short chapters full of wisdom and experience, it is a perfect book for reflection during Lent.

The book is available in the ballroom on Sunday mornings for $10. Books may also be purchased on Amazon, and e-book versions may be purchased on Amazon and ibooks.

Read the book on your own or, if you wish to join a small discussion group or online group, please provide contact information to the booksellers, or email Carol Joselyn at joselyn66@gmail.com, or call her at (515) 570-3736.
