FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

The Gospel this year for the feast of Christ, the King of the Universe comes from St. Luke's description of the Passion. It features the exchange from the cross of Jesus and the so-called "Good Thief". Unlike his fellow criminal, he acknowledges his sins and expresses his faith in Jesus. Jesus responds by promising he will be with him in Paradise.

The Christian tradition has taken this brief story (found only in Luke's Gospel) and run with it. Christians have never been afraid to create a compelling back story for fascinating characters from the Gospels. Despite being unknown in Luke's Gospel, the Good Thief was soon named. He is Dismas in the West, Demas among the Coptic Christians of Egypt, and Rakh in the Russian Orthodox tradition. Tales have been spun of his background as a brigand and murder who roamed the deserts of Palestine. A number of Easter Orthodox hymns for Good Friday feature the Good Thief.

This desire to fill in the story is an important part of the Christian imagination. It suggests an intimacy with biblical characters, and willingness to understand them better. St. Dismas acknowledged his own sinfulness and sought to be with Jesus. He models what it means to be a disciple. No wonder our ancestors in faith wanted to know him better.

College Church Legacy Society

As we celebrate the death and resurrection of our Lord, it is an opportunity to reflect on the legacy of his time on this earth and how it sustains us every day of our lives. This reflection can lead us to think about our own life and legacy. Each one of us is a ripple on the pond of life reflected in those others whose lives we have touched. In a tangible way I know that there are those of you who have provided for a financial legacy that benefits the College Church.

We would like to recognize that legacy and thank those individuals who have included the College Church in their estate plans. We are establishing a College Church Legacy Society for this purpose and are asking those of you who have made these plans to let us know who you are so we can extend our thanks in a fun and tangible way. Please go to our website <https://sfxstl.org/legacy-society>. Information and plans about the future of this group, as well as information on estate giving, will be coming in the future.

Advent Reconciliation Service

One of the Gospel calls we hear both from John the Baptist and Jesus in our Advent Scriptures is the call to repentance. True repentance can only come when we take our eyes off of ourselves and place them on Jesus, who reminds us that only in humbly keeping our hearts open to grace can we recognize our deep need for ongoing conversion and transformation. Our parish communal Service of Reconciliation will be held on Saturday, December 21 at 4:00 pm.

Campaign For Human Development

Please be generous in supporting the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CHD). In the United States, one in six people live in poverty. Through this collection you support a wide variety of wonderful programs that address the causes of poverty and provide a sustainable future for people across the country who struggle. In addition 25% of the funds we collect will remain in our diocese to fund local antipoverty projects. Please prayerfully consider how you can support this collection and thus assist our work for people who are marginalized. Envelopes can be found on the bulletin tables. More information about the Catholic Campaign for Human Development can be found at www.usccb.org/cchd/collection.

SIMPLIFY YOUR LIFE

AND HELP OUT ST. FRANCIS XAVIER COLLEGE CHURCH

Do you have trouble remembering to write that check before you come to Mass? Do snowy Sundays, vacations and Summer holidays make you feel a little of that Catholic guilt when your weekly contribution doesn't get made? Online giving is a great way to make your life easier and provide a consistent, predictable revenue stream for our church. Thank you for all your support through offertory giving!

Access Online Giving:

Go to sfxstl.org. Click on the blue bar at the very top of the webpage.

For assistance setting up or making changes to your online giving, please call (800) 348-2886.

Shared Prayer

"For whenever two or three are gathered together in my name, I am in their midst" (Mt 18:20). The Pastoral Care Committee would like to provide opportunities for parishioners to come together in prayer for the persons listed on the "Sick List" in our weekly bulletin, as well as for other personal needs. There is definitely peace and comfort that comes from sharing prayer together. Please join us on the 2nd Sunday of the month after the 8:00 Mass and on the 4th Sunday of the month after the 10:30 Mass at the Blessed Sacrament Altar. In Shared Prayer groups, confidentiality is of utmost importance and what is said in shared prayer remains in the group. This allows all participating to relax and open their hearts in prayer, knowing the group will be holding up their intentions then and throughout the coming days.

New Testament Apocrypha

That is, pious- or semi-Christian writings that never made it into the New Testament, some secret, some popular: like Gospels of the Nazareans, of Thomas, of Peter, of Mary, of Truth; Second Treatise of the Great Seth; Acts of Thecla, of Peter; Correspondence of Paul and Seneca; The Didache; Letter of Paul to the Laodiceans; Shepherd of Hermas, Hymn of the Pearl, and many, many more, as far as we can get to. Helps understand sources of some popular Christian stories. The New Testament itself never looked so good!

Not required, but helpful to give Dr. Nichols your e-mail address so he can send info: nicholfw@slu.edu.

Christmas Youth Choir/Instrumentalists

LAST CALL! This is a great opportunity for young people to be involved in our Christmas Eve Mass. The Priesthood of the Faithful – Part II

Recently, we discussed the fact that we have a right to fully and actively participate in the great prayer of the Mass because we share in Jesus's priesthood. Baptism claimed us for Christ, joining us to him in an indissoluble bond. We have become part of him, members of his Body. When we gather on Sunday we are consciously uniting ourselves with him in offering ourselves to the Father – as “spiritual sacrifices pleasing to God” (1 Pt 2:5) – a priesthood of the faithful.

In the action of the Eucharist we exercise our priesthood by offering ourselves with Christ to the Father. With the bread and wine, symbols of the work of human hands, we place our hearts on the altar, the symbol of sacrifice, and pray that our gifts - bread and wine AND each of us - may become the Body and Blood of Christ. The mass is not the priest's prayer; it is ours. Through baptism Christ has shared his priesthood with us.

So we must offer with the presider the great sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving that is the Mass. With the presider we are responsible for praying the prayers and singing the songs of the mass. With the presider we must be willing channels of the Spirit's consecratory power, that we might be transformed into Christ for the life of the world.

Our baptism bestows on us a sacred dignity as priests. In the Mass we “practice” what should be the pattern of our lives. It is, indeed, a great privilege for us to claim this gift and be active agents with Christ in giving ourselves in unconditional love for the salvation of the world.

Black Catholic History Month

In 1990 the National Black Catholic Clergy Caucus of the United States designated November as Black Catholic History Month in order to recognize the long history and proud heritage of black Catholics. It is an opportunity to reflect on the contributions of so many who served the church from its earliest days. This year, we will be sharing the stories and the legacy of black Catholics in the Archdiocese of St. Louis. We celebrate the many ways our Catholic community has been enriched and continues to be blessed through these lives of faith and service.

Father Augustus Tolton: First African American Priest

Father Augustus Tolton was born in Brush Creek, near Hannibal (Ralls County), Missouri in 1854. He died in Chicago in 1897 at the age of 43. Father Tolton is the first priest who identified as African American. He was preceded by the three Healy brothers, the sons of an African slave and an Irish plantation owner, but the Heals did not acknowledge their African heritage. Fr. Tolton's mother, Martha Jane Chisley, had been enslaved in Kentucky by members of the Manning family, who were Catholic. Martha Jane was given to Susan Manning as a wedding gift, on the occasion of Susan's marriage to Stephen Elliot. Stephen and Susan Elliot moved from Kentucky to Ralls County, Missouri, to a farm near Brush Creek and not far from Hannibal. Father Tolton's father, Peter Paul Tolton was enslaved by the Hager family, whose farm adjoined the Elliots. The Hagers were Catholic. Peter and Martha Jane had three children: Charles, Augustus, and Anne. Ahead of the Civil War, Tolton's mother gathered the children and with the help of a Union soldier, crossed the Mississippi into Illinois, then a free state. They arrived in Quincy where he, his mother and brother took jobs in a cigar factory.

Tolton's elementary education was intermittent at best between Catholic schools, the designated public school for African Americans, and private tutoring by the School Sisters of Notre Dame. Augustus finally studied in Rome in preparation for his ordination, after no American seminary would accept him based on his ethnicity and was ordained in 1886. His studies prepared him to serve in the missions, which he expected to mean Africa. When he was assigned to serve in the Alton diocese in Illinois, now the diocese of Springfield, Illinois, he was surprised and somewhat dismayed. There he was assigned to his home parish, St. Peter's, in Quincy. From there, he was transferred to the Chicago diocese where he spent the remainder of his life.

Fr. Tolton, fondly called Father Gus, was renowned for his homilies, singing, and accordion accompaniment. During his time at St. Monica's parish in Chicago, it grew from 30 to over 600 families in a short time. His influence fostered many priestly vocations in other black men in the region.

Fr. Tolton's health suffered as the result of his zeal. During his last few years he grew weaker and more frail, and ultimately collapsed in the July heat of Chicago and died in 1897. His remains were returned to Quincy, Illinois, where he was interred in the priests' section of St. Peter's Parish Cemetery.

In 2011 Father Tolton Regional High School was opened in Columbia, Missouri, and in 2015 Tolton Academy in Chicago opened to be the first STREAM (science, technology, reading, engineering, arts, and math) in Chicago. In 2010 Cardinal Francis George of Chicago began investigations leading to canonization. Along with the Archdiocese of Chicago, the dioceses of Springfield, Illinois, and Jefferson City, Missouri signed on in concert. In June 2019 Pope Francis advanced Fr. Tolton's cause, naming him "venerable," the first step to beatification and ultimately to canonization.

More on Father Augustus Tolton's fascinating and groundbreaking life is available at Tolton.archchicago.org.
