From the Pastor's Desk

Tony Messenger wrote a column in the Post-Dispatch that expressed his horror at the events in Charlottesville over the weekend. He had tweeted his shock disbelief at what happened. A number of people responded including Dr. Jason Purnell an associate professor at Washington University. He wrote, "America isn't better than this. America is this. America CAN be better than this if we finally face that fact."

Dr. Purnell is St. Louis born and raised. He is a graduate of SLUH, Harvard University, and Ohio State University. Dr. Purnell holds degrees in public health and clinical psychology, and he serves on the archdiocese Peace & Justice committee. Months before Ferguson, Dr. Purnell released his work on the condition of metro St. Louis according to race and zip code. I recommend strongly the projects website <https://forthesakeofall.org/>

I heard Dr. Purnell speak a few months ago at a campus event regarding the city/county divide. He has an incredible ability to synthesize the academic and scientific with a passion for social justice. For my money, there may be no more significant St. Louisan today.

Our faith calls us to recognize sin in ourselves and our society. It is hardly radical to state the truth, yet many white Christians seem unwilling to challenge our national myths. Catholics, once a despised minority, are not immune to this temptation. Dr. Purnell reminds us seeing things as they are, not as we wish them to be, is our duty as citizens and believers.

The Duchesne Mass

In 1818, Saint Rose Philippine Duchesne and four companions arrived in the New World to make God's love known through their service of education. Thanks to these intrepid missionaries, the Religious of the Sacred Heart are now in 41 countries with a network of 147 schools. To celebrate the bicentennial of Philippine's arrival, we have commissioned Father Michael Joncas to compose the Duchesne Mass, asking that it might echo early American music.

The formal premiere of the Mass will be at the Cathedral Basilica on November 18, 2018, but in preparation for that event, the College Church community will learn the Mass this fall, beginning next weekend, and we will welcome the composer on the weekend of October 29th for a professional recording. We are so grateful for this collaboration with all of you and hope that this musical setting will be a grace for us all.

Kathleen Hughes, RSCJ
Chair, Bicentennial Committee, Society of the Sacred Heart

LIGHTWORKS – AN EXPERIENCE OF IGNATIAN PRAYER

LIGHTWORKS is a “light form of work,” a series of limbering up exercises for the spirit. Physical exercises build muscle, increase stamina, and develop flexibility. So LIGHTWORKS does for the spirit. These exercises of prayer and reflection build our relationship with God and help us become more aware of God’s presence in our lives. It consists of weekly group sessions. Participants are given scripture passages or reflections from the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius to pray over each week. These invite us into conversation with God about our lives. Then during the weekly session, there is sharing about these passages and a presentation from one of the facilitators. There are 15 weekly sessions with seven before Thanksgiving and eight in the new year. LightWorks will be offered at College Church this fall on Sundays from noon until 2:00 pm, beginning on October 1.

Flyers are available at the doorways of the church. For more information or to register, please contact Joseph Milner at 314-977-7305 or milnerjv@slu.edu

Interested in Learning about the Catholic Faith?

If you would like to learn more about the Catholic Church, its beliefs and practices, you are invited to come to our inquiry sessions. These offer an opportunity to ask questions about Catholic beliefs and practices. They are informal and focus on the issues which the participants deem important. If you are interested in learning more, please contact Joseph Milner, 314-977-7305 or milnerjv@slu.edu
